

LIFE RAFT INTERNATIONAL

Two years ago, the plight of refugee kids in Bangkok inspired Richard to provide generous matching funds so children could access education. Today, I am excited to announce that Richard has chosen to provide generous matching funds again!

When I chatted with Richard, he said,

“Seeing their eyes light up with a smile as they talk about “their” school, “their” teachers and what they are learning is worth every contribution given towards refugees education in Bangkok.”

Refugee children in Bangkok are still desperate for education

For every dollar you give, Richard will give one dollar.

You can partner with Richard to provide education to refugee children by clicking here:
In the comment section, just note “Education.” It would also mean a lot to me if you dropped me an email.

Thank you for joining with us to help refugee children!
